Stephen Bell

Conductor

Stephen Bell studied at the Royal College of Music under the renowned conductor Norman Del Mar. He is in demand with a wide variety of international orchestras. He was appointed Artistic Director of the City of Oxford Orchestra in 2009, Associate Conductor of the Hallé Pops in Manchester in 2013 and Principal Guest Conductor of the RTÉ Concert Orchestra in Dublin in 2022.

Stephen's discography includes critically acclaimed CDs on the ASV, Naxos and Dutton labels, including two with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, a disc devoted to the music of Gordon Jacob and three recordings with violist Roger Chase and the BBC Concert Orchestra, as well as A Christmas Celebration with the Hallé on its own label and a collaboration with award-winning vocalist Clare Teal on MUD Records.

His diverse repertoire, versatility and aptitude for communication with audiences of all ages has led to exciting conducting projects with an eclectic range of artists. Past highlights include conducting the Queen's Jubilee Concert at Chatsworth House, a tribute concert for Stanley Black at the Royal Festival Hall, a gala event for Prince Charles at Windsor Castle, the memorial concert for Alistair Cooke at Westminster Abbey, the award-winning Pitch Perfect for BBC TV's Children in Need at Wembley with the BBC Singers, the televised Music Nation concert from the Clyde Auditorium in Glasgow, and pop legends Texas with the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra at Barrowlands, Glasgow, for BBC Music Day 2017.

From 2005 to 2010, Stephen conducted the annual televised BBC Proms in the Park with the BBC Philharmonic, and from 2011 he appeared every year on the live TV broadcasts of the BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra's Last Night of the Proms celebrations. He made his Royal Albert Hall Proms debut with the Doctor Who Prom in 2008, returning in 2012 for a Family Matinée Prom with the Royal Northern Sinfonia and in 2014 for two televised CBeebies Proms with the BBC Philharmonic. The Folk Prom in the 2018 season marked his first Prom with the BBC Concert Orchestra, and he returned with them in 2019.

Royal Scottish National Orchestra

Formed in 1891 as the Scottish Orchestra, the company became the Scottish National Orchestra in 1950 and was awarded Royal Patronage in 1977. Many renowned conductors have contributed to its success, including Sir John Barbirolli, Walter Susskind, Sir Alexander Gibson, Neeme Järvi, Walter Weller, Alexander Lazarev and Stéphane Denève.

The Orchestra's artistic team is led by Danish conductor Thomas Søndergård, who was appointed Music Director in 2018. In March 2024, Austrian-born conductor, composer and musician Patrick Hahn became the Orchestra's Principal Guest Conductor.

The RSNO is supported by the Scottish Government and is one of the Scottish National Performing Companies. The Orchestra performs across Scotland, including concerts in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, Perth and Inverness, and appears regularly at the Edinburgh International Festival and BBC Proms. The RSNO has made recent tours to the USA, China and Europe.

The RSNO has a worldwide reputation for the quality of its recordings, receiving a 2020 Gramophone Classical Music Award for Chopin's Piano Concertos (soloist: Benjamin Grosvenor), conducted by Elim Chan, two Diapason d'Or awards (Denève/Roussel 2007; Denève/Debussy 2012) and eight GRAMMY Award nominations. In recent years, the RSNO has increasingly recorded soundtracks for film, television and video games, with notable titles including Horizon: An American Saga (Warner Bros), Life on Our Planet (Netflix), Star Wars Outlaws (Ubisoft), Avatar: Frontiers of Pandora (Meta Quest VR) and The Woman King (Sony Pictures). The Orchestra records at its bespoke in-house facility, Scotland's Studio, in Glasgow.

The RSNO believes that music can enrich lives, and aims to inspire, educate and entertain people throughout Scotland and beyond with its performances, recordings and engagement programmes. Supporting schools, families, young professionals and wider communities, the RSNO delivers high-quality initiatives for all ages and abilities, reaching over 68,000 people in 2023.

RSNO Youth Chorus

The RSNO Youth Chorus is one of the leading children and youth choirs in the UK. Formed in 1978 by Jean Kidd, the Youth Chorus is currently led by director Patrick Barrett and boasts over 400 members aged 7 to 18. It has built up a considerable reputation singing under some of the world's most distinguished conductors and appearing on radio and television.

RSNO Youth Chorus members sing regularly with Scotland's National Orchestra in major concert halls and festivals throughout the country, and in 2021 performed at COP26 in Glasgow. The Youth Chorus has also sung at BBC concerts and regularly appears at the Edinburgh International Festival.

The RSNO Youth Chorus is kindly supported by Dunclay Charitable Trust, Meikle Foundation, W A Cargill Fund and Walton Foundation.

RSNO Changed Voices

Changed Voices is a satellite group of the RSNO Youth Chorus for boys whose voices are changing. The choir was established in 2006, with generous support from The Gannochy Trust, with the aim of encouraging boys to continue singing as their voices are changing. Studies have shown that careful singing through the changing process allows boys to develop and maintain a healthy singing technique. Changed Voices is coached by Frikki Walker and Phil Gault, and continues the fine RSNO Youth Chorus tradition of singing and musicianship taught in a lively and fun way, while giving the voice time to develop before members move into adult choirs. Changed Voices has given performances at various high-profile engagements, including guest appearances on BBC Radio Scotland's Classics Unwrapped and at the RSNO's Gala Ball.

Frikki Walker

Director, RSNO Changed Voices

Frikki Walker is a choral conductor with many years' experience of conducting boys' changing voices. He has conducted the RSNO Changed Voices since 2009 and for many years conducted the Changed Voices of the National Youth Choir of Scotland, and also founded and directs Glasgow Cambiata, which brings together boys' choirs from schools in the area. This choir has performed to great acclaim with the RSNO.

Frikki is Director of Music at St Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, where his choir has earned an international reputation for excellence through its regular broadcasts on radio and TV. He founded and conducts the Royal School of Church Music Scottish Voices, and is often a guest conductor and examiner at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland. As a member of staff at the High School of Glasgow, his Chamber Choir has won BBC Songs of Praise Senior School Choir of the Year and made various radio and TV appearances.

Frikki has worked with all of Scotland's most prestigious choirs and has run workshops and adjudicated at music festivals all over Scotland. He is also an accomplished organist, singer and composer.

Patrick Barrett

Director, RSNO Youth Chorus

Patrick Barrett is a conductor specialising in choral music and opera. He is currently Chorus Director of the RSNO Youth Chorus, Royal Opera House Youth Opera Company, Irish Youth Choir (14-17 years) and the award-winning Farnham Youth Choirs.

Recent highlights include conducting the RSNO Youth Chorus in performances with Sheku Kanneh-Mason, Benjamin Grosvenor and Nicola Benedetti, as well as preparing them for the recording of Gaspard's Christmas by Jonathan Dove. Patrick also led Farnham Youth Choir to two gold medals at the World Choir Games 2024 in New Zealand. He has premiered new works by Errollyn Wallen, Jonathan Brigg, Emma O'Halloran and DJ R.Kitt, and is a regular guest conductor with the National Youth Choirs 9-15 Years.

Patrick's commitment to youth choral music extends to preparing choruses for the Edinburgh International Festival, and for the Dunedin Consort, where his work often features in major international performances. As a dedicated music educator, Patrick has worked with organisations including The Sixteen, BBC Singers, Wigmore Hall and Aldeburgh Young Musicians, and has spoken at the Post Primary Music Teachers Association in Ireland.

In opera, Patrick collaborates with leading UK companies such as the Royal Opera House, English National Opera and Garsington Opera, where he prepares youth choruses for main-stage productions and world premieres, including Carmen under Antonello Manacorda and Otello under Sir Antonio Pappano. Previously, he was the conductor of the University of Birmingham's Upper Voices Choir, University of Reading Chamber Choir and Brockham Choral Society.

Alison McNeill

Associate Director

Scottish conductor, soprano and fiddle player Alison McNeill graduated with a Masters in Performance from the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland. She went on to study with the late legendary mezzo-soprano Teresa Berganza in Granada, winning the Andrés Segovia prize for Spanish Song in Spain (the only non-native speaker to win this award). As a specialist in Spanish Song, Alison has premiered new works by Spain's foremost composers Antón García Abril and Teresa Bretal in the National Auditorium of Galicia and Atheneum in Madrid. She has also performed in the Manuel de Falla Auditorium in Granada and in the houses of celebrated composers Joaquín Rodrigo and Manuel de Falla.

With guitarist and duo partner Sasha Savaloni, Alison performed world premieres by Stuart MacRae and Marco Ramelli at the St Magnus International Festival in Orkney, and gave a recital in Madrid's 'Clásicos en Verano' Chamber Music Festival which was recorded by Spanish national radio. Since then she has performed as a soloist in the UK, Holland, Spain, Italy, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Japan, Pakistan, Kenya, USA and Mexico, with highlights including singing as a soloist with Ditrambo Early Music Ensemble in Mexico, in Minami Aizu Concert Hall (Japan), Canteloube's Chants d'Auvergne with the Glasgow Chamber Orchestra, and Verdi's Requiem and Orff's Carmina Burana with the RSNO in Glasgow Royal Concert Hall.

As a traditional musician, Alison is fiddler and singer songwriter in the award-winning folk rock band Reely Jiggered, who won the O2 ABC SoundWave Music competition and have since released three albums. They have most recently returned from a tour of Pakistan, Denmark and Virginia. The band have performed at the Scottish Parliament, Celtic Connections, for BBC Radio nan Gàidheal and Radio 4, and on Pakistani and Mexican national TV. They performed in Nairobi on the recent St Andrew's Night and will perform at Tartan Week in New York in April.

Alison is Director of the National Youth Choir of Northern Ireland's Boys Choir and 100-strong Junior Choir who recently gave the premiere of Claire McCue's The Giant Folk and the Wee Folk, broadcast on BBC Ulster. She is Associate Director of the RSNO Youth Chorus, Conductor of the National Youth Choir of Scotland National Boys Choir, and Director of Voices of Argyll, who recently performed the world premiere of Interwoven, an Indian-Scottish fusion commission for choir, sitar, tabla and Indian dancer, in the Scottish Parliament. Alison returns to Doha as head judge for the Qatar Choir of the Year Competition next year.
